

ICGC BROWN BAG SERIES

Trans-Indigenous Canoe Relationalities and Materialities: The Native Canoe Program's Collaborative Contributions to Global Indigenous Studies and New Knowledge Production

Vicente Diaz

Department of American Indian Studies

February 10, 2023, 12 - 1pm CT

537 Heller Hall (ICGC)

Live Stream Available @www.icgc.umn.edu

This multimedia presentation will feature the theoretical and applied foundations developed by the Department of American Indian Studies' Native Canoe Program. Using Indigenous watercraft and the craftwork of Indigenous knowledge systems about water/land/sky to advance engaged research, teaching, learning, and kinmaking among Minnesota's Indigenous communities, the Native Canoe program also partners with the College of Engineering and Science's Immersive / Visualization Lab (I/V Lab) to explore the specific intellectual, cultural, and social interphase and payouts for academic researchers and Minnesota's Indigenous communities when Indigenous technology/ knowledge meets virtual, augmented, and mixed reality platforms.

A traditional "paafu" or celestial navigation map from Polowat Atoll, Federated States of Micronesia.

Photo Credits: Vicente Diaz.

Interdisciplinary Center for the Study of Global Change

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

For a full list of ICGC Events go to icgc.umn.edu.
For accessibility and other questions please contact
Laura Bell at icgc@umn.edu. ICGC is a unit of the GPS Alliance.